THE COLUMBUS AIRSOFT EXPO 2012

A WEEKEND OF HEROES

AND THE SSCC WAS THERE WITH DIORAMAS, VEHICLES AND FIGURES - THE BEST OF 1:6th

For those of you that couldn't make the Weekend of Heroes in Columbus at the beginning of the month, you missed out. Toy Chest and Collectibles, JP Hobbies, War Structures and Esumthing4U were the expo's 1:6th vendors. The show was primarily aimed at the Airsoft Community, but our hobby had a very healthy showing. The SSCC Ohio did a fairly good-sized club display which featured WWII, Vietnam and Modern dioramas and a large selection of vehicles and figures. Really, there was pretty much something for everyone in the display. Being into Airsoft and 1:6th, I personally enjoyed the combination of hobbies as I really like 'scoping out' all the weapons and gear that are available. (Continued page 4)

JUNE MEETING

It was a great meeting night. There was plenty of eye candy and a good crowd of folks. Got some pictures for you .

A look at the JUNE CLUB MEETING

I wasn't able to be at the June meeting because of a Florida vacation, but obviously there was some great eye candy that evening. As always the selection was varied and reflected a wide variety of interests. First, (1) a trio of WWII American Pilots. I have lost my notes that Hammer Six sent me, so I don't know who these belong to, but they are great looking figures. Next, (2) Dr. Zorkon's skiing James Bond. Pretty slick, would like to know how he got that pose to stay like that. (3) Abraham Lincoln may have not met his end at Ford's Theater after all. Dr. Zorkon's whimsical "Haircut and a Shave". (4) Trooper Tim's monthly Sci-Fi contribution is this cool Mech Vehicle. He did a really great job of piecing this vehicle together into a unique looking war machine. Nice job Tim. (5) Finally, Panzercommander's nicely detailed German mortar team is really sharp. As always, his figures are loaded with detail, looking like they walked right out of a period photograph. Great job! Great Meeting Guys, wish I could have been there.

FINDLAY Just a few highlights

The Findlay Military Vehicles show was just awesome. There were roughly 180 real military vehicles of all types and sizes on display at the fairgrounds. Everything from Jeeps to tanks; every time period from WWII to modern day. I snapped about 350 pictures over the weekend and drooled on a number of vehicles. The SSCC had a great display of 1:6th military vehicles on display; also WWII to modern day, including Han's Albin's beautiful scratch-built Panther Tank and Hammer Six's great looking Marder III.

...It was a great time to meet folks...

...that we have corresponded with on the internet. I didn't get to meet them all, but there were a number of individuals there that frequent the various online boards. And there was a lot to see. Viaad was there with a great looking scratch-built 234 and a beautifully done Hetzer. Panzercommander had his fantastic T-34 and crew on display as well as a lot of great-looking American figures in our WWII display. Drone7771 had a wonderful selection of WWII figures on display, Black Jack had a beautiful modern diorama and of course Dr. Zorkon supplied figures for the WWII and Modern displays as well as some Modern vehicles. For the limited amount of space we had, we really packed it full. Of course it is just a small sample of what will be at Ft. Thomas in November; you'll want to make plans to be there.
