FT. THOMAS SHOW Shaping Up to be a GREAT TIME!

The SSCC is gearing up for the 7th Annual FIGURECON Action Figure Show in Ft. Thomas (Nov 15th and 16th) and it is looking to be a great show this year. There are going to be a ton of figures and dioramas on display, including some new pieces that have not been seen at previous shows. We've got some great vendors lined up as well, so it promises to be a wallet "lightening" experience. New this year is a pizza party reception for 1:6th hobbyists at the exhibition hall after the doors close to the public. If you are attending on Saturday, you will want to stay for a great time of food and hobby chat. There really isn't another regional show like this one in the United States because the focus of FIGURECON is on military action figures. You will see more stuff displayed here than any other show you might choose to attend, so make plans now for the weekend of Nov 15th and come on down to Ft. Thomas, you'll be glad you did.

MAY CLUB MEETING

The May meeting had a ton of eye candy for everyone to enjoy. (1) Pointman brought his new Hot Toys Batman and Robin. (2) Hammer Six brought some more of the Normandy ready Waffen SS figures that he has been working on. Very sharp! (3) Pointman also brought some of his Vietnam infantry figures that he has been reworking and weathering. This unit is now 24 figures strong. (4) Amaral brought a nice selection of Russian WWII figures including the fellow below, which is nicely detailed and beautifully weathered. Amaral never fails to amaze me with his technique, it's always museum quality. Also at the meeting, there's an update on Pointman's vehicles on page 4.

JUNE CLUB MEETING

I wasn't able to attend the June meeting, but there was some great stuff at that gathering as well. Tim came with some futuristic figures including (5) the guy above, which I assume is from a video game. (6) Hammer Six brought some more of his Waffen SS figures, which look outstanding. John Kidd had a double theme going; British Soldiers and American Civil War. (7) First, this really nice looking WWII British Paratrooper, followed by (8) an outstanding Falkland's War British soldier. Nice work John. Then John also displayed a couple of Confederate soldiers (9) in the typical rag tag uniforms that we have come to associate with the southern army. Both of these figures are really nice as well. I'm looking forward to the July meeting, which is just a week away. Hope to see you there.

Pointman gets the basecoat down...

POINTMAN HAS BEEN WORKING ON A WAFFEN SS OBSERVATION UNIT FOR MONTHS... IT'S GETTING A LITTLE CLOSER TO THE FINISH LINE...

My sd.kfz 250.5 and sd.kfz. 222 still have some work before they are completed, but I was able to show some progress at the May meeting. The interior of the 250 was completed and then both vehicles were sprayed with Testor's African Mustard. The plan is for camo of dark green in a "spidery" pattern. Then both vehicles will be weathered and receive additional exterior details. These two vehicles are part of a unit that also includes a Panzer III (in Progress), a Dragon Schwimmwagen and about twenty figures. My plan is to have it ready to show at Ft. Thomas this year. - PM
